

THE TALE OF TWO SEEDS

Living the Spirit Filled Life.com

The full cycle of God's redemptive plan — from the germ seed of divine promise in Genesis to the mature spiritual fruit of righteousness in Revelation

Much of modern Christianity treats Scripture as a collection of disconnected doctrines rather than a single, organically unfolding plan. As a result, believers often miss the unifying principle that governs the entire Bible from Genesis to Revelation. God works through seeds that grow, mature, and ultimately bear fruit. The Tale of Two Seeds is written to restore that biblical symmetry by tracing how God's Word and Satan's counterfeit word were both sown at the beginning, developed through history, revealed by their fruit in human character, and fully manifested in the final harvest of Revelation. This study aligns with the Living the Spirit Filled Life framework by showing that redemption is not merely about forgiveness, but about spiritual growth unto maturity, where Christ is formed in believers and God's original purpose is brought to completion.

I. The Germ Seed in Genesis

Main Thought:

The entire plan of God and rebellion of Satan begin as spiritual seeds in the garden. They were small beginnings that carry within themselves the nature of what they will become.

Key Points:

The Seed Promise:

- Genesis 3:15 introduces two distinct seeds — the seed of the woman and the seed of the serpent.
- These two seeds represent two spiritual lineages, one born of God's truth and the other born of lies through Satan's deception.

Nature of a Seed:

- The seed carries the life principle of the one who sows it.
- Luke 8:11. "The seed is the Word of God." Man shall live by every word that proceeds out of the mouth of God (Matt 4:4). Every word sown in the heart produces according to its nature.

Contrasting Germination:

- The divine germination is the implanted Word leading to eternal life.
- The serpent's germination is the lie that produces sin and death.

Narrative Expansion:

From the first promise of a coming Redeemer, God planted His Word like a living seed in human history. At the same time, Satan sowed his own counterfeit word of independence and rebellion. From these two sources, truth and deception and every moral and spiritual harvest have sprung forth.

II. Growth of Each Lineage Through the Ages

Main Thought:

The two seeds mature progressively through human generations, developing into two distinct lines of influence.

Key Points:

Seed of God: Faith Line

- Abel's animal sacrifice was accepted by God, but Cain's agriculture was not (Heb. 11:4).
- Seth's seed began calling on the Lord (Gen. 4:26).
- Noah found grace and preserved the righteous seed (Gen. 6:8-9).
- Abraham received the covenant promise that "in thy seed shall all nations be blessed" (Gen. 22:18).

Seed of the Serpent: Rebellion Line

- Cain's works were evil (1 John 3:12).
- Nimrod established a self-exalting kingdom (Gen. 10:8-10).
- The spirit of self-deification is now appearing in the antichrist's system (2 Thess. 2:3-4).

Narrative Expansion:

As human history unfolded, both seeds grew side by side. Faith produced obedience, and rebellion produced corruption. The line of promise carried hope through patriarchs and prophets, while the line of deception constructed a tower through pride. The battlefield of the ages was not physical soil but the ground of human hearts.

III. The Maturing of Character — Works of the Flesh vs. Fruit of the Spirit

Main Thought:

The spiritual nature of each seed is revealed by the fruit it bears.

Key Points:

Fruit of the Spirit:

- Gal. 5:22-23 — Love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance.

- Each trait is the divine character reproduced in the believer through the indwelling Spirit.

Works of the Flesh:

- Gal. 5:19–21 — Adultery, idolatry, hatred, envy, drunkenness, and the like.
- The works of the devil’s nature are being manifest in fallen humanity.

The Law of Reproduction:

- Gen. 1:11–12 — “Each seed after its kind.”
- What one sows spiritually will inevitably manifest in visible fruit (Gal. 6:7–8).

Narrative Expansion:

Though both lines exist within humanity, the Spirit wants to bring forth godly fruit from the new birth while the flesh is producing corruption from our fallen nature. Every word, thought, and deed is a seed sown toward either divine likeness or self-destruction.

IV. The Harvest in Revelation

Main Thought:

The final book of the Bible portrays the ultimate maturity of both seeds. The same principle applies to both the righteous and the wicked during the church age as well as the Millennial reign of Christ.

Key Points:

The Harvest of the Earth:

- Rev. 14:15–16 — The Son of Man reaps the ripened grain of the earth.
- Represents the full completion of the righteous seed—sons conformed to Christ’s image (Rom. 8:29).

The Grapes of Wrath:

- Rev. 14:17–20 — Another angel gathers the clusters of the vine of the earth for judgment.
- Symbol of the world’s system fully matured in rebellion.

Two Trees, Two Fruits:

- Rev. 22:2 — The Tree of Life bearing twelve fruits of healing.
- Rev. 18:5-6 — God pays back mystery Babylon’s sins double for her deeds.

Narrative Expansion:

History's growth culminates in two harvests: the saints fully ripened in righteousness, and the nations fully developed in iniquity. The same sun of divine revelation that matures wheat also hardens tares. Judgment and reward are both the natural outcomes of what has grown within.

V. Doctrinal and Prophetic Implications

Main Thought:

The seed principle explains both God's redemptive purpose and Satan's counterfeit system.

Key Points:

God's Intention:

- To bring forth "many sons unto glory" (Heb. 2:10).
- To reproduce His own image in man through Christ (Col. 1:27).

Satan's Counterfeit:

- To exalt self as god and enthrone man's will above divine order (Isa. 14:13-14).
- His seed manifests as systems of control, deception, and idolatry.

The Final Conflict:

- Both seeds reach full expression before Christ's return for His Bride (Matt. 13:30).
- Separation of tares and wheat signifies the closure of the church age.
- Satan is bound during the Millennium but returns to deceive at the end (Rev. 20:7-9).

Narrative Expansion:

God's Word is unstoppable, yet Satan's rebellion continues to counterfeit it. Every doctrine, system, and moral choice reveals allegiance to one of two fathers. The mystery of iniquity and the mystery of godliness grow side by side until divine separation reveals their true nature all the way to the New Heaven and New Earth and Satan resides in the Lake of Fire.

VI. Personal and Spiritual Application

Main Thought:

Each believer is both a field and a gardener — responsible for what is allowed to grow within.

Key Points:

Abiding in the Vine:

- John 15:4-5 — “He that abideth in Me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit.”

Sowing to the Spirit:

- Gal. 6:7-9 — The principle of spiritual sowing and reaping.

Transformation of Life:

- Gal. 4:19 — “Until Christ be formed in you.”
- 1 John 3:9 — The seed of God remains to be matured in those born of God.

Narrative Expansion:

As Scripture unfolds, the nature of each seed becomes visible through the fruit it produces. God’s Word, when received and nurtured, works patiently to reproduce divine character within the believer. Love, peace, self-control, and righteousness are not imposed traits but the natural outcome of the Spirit’s life taking root and maturing over time. In contrast, when the flesh governs thought and conduct, its works emerge with equal consistency, revealing the presence of a different operating principle. The Bible presents this contrast not to condemn, but to illuminate the spiritual law that every seed develops according to its nature. Growth, whether toward life or corruption, is progressive and observable, confirming that inward allegiance ultimately manifests in outward character.

Concluding Thought:

From Genesis to Revelation, Scripture presents a unified and orderly testimony: what God sows grows toward life, and what is born of deception matures toward separation. The seed of God, implanted through His Word, is designed to develop believers into the likeness of Christ, producing righteousness, peace, and restoration. The opposing seed follows an entirely different course, manifesting self-rule, and rebellion as it progresses toward judgment. These outcomes are not arbitrary acts of fate, but the revealed consequence of spiritual laws set in motion from the beginning. God grants humanity the dignity of choice, not merely to avoid destruction, but to participate in life itself—life that is cultivated, sustained, and brought to fullness through Christ, the true Tree of Life.
